ANNOUNCEMENTS

FAMOUS YACHT NOW

INSERVICE OF U. S. A.

"Nokomis" Owned by H. E. Dodge, Detroit Motor Car Manufacturer, Given Over For War Duty.

Detroit's conception of what war means has been considerably broadened by the departure of the luxurious steam yacht "Nokomis," owned by H. E. Dodge, motor car manufacturer, "for duty on the high seas in the service of the United States navy." Therefore the "Nokomis" has been looked upon—and was a pleasure palace afloat. Now she becomes an instrument for war—and the public mind begins to grasp the significance of the transformation.

The "Nokomis," considered one of the finest yachts afloat, was offered to the government shortly after America's declaration of war. Less than two weeks ago Mr. Dodge was notified of her acceptance and preparation for the more serious business of fighting, as compared with the delights of smooth sailing on the lakes, began immediately. On May 15, she cleared from her coaling dock in Detroit, bound for the St. Lawrence River, the Gulf and New York. At the latter port she will be formally taken over by the government, although a naval officer was nominally in command from the moment she left Detroit. Exact plans for the future of the "Nokomis" are withheld by the government, but it is known that her name will be changed and that she will soon appear in full naval attire.

The departure of the vessel was signalized by a farewell reception given aboard her by Mr. Dodge for a few friends who had been his guests on frequent cruises.

The "Nokomis" is a 305-ton yacht of steel construction, 130 feet over all and with an extreme breadth of 23 feet. She is equipped with triple expansion, four-cylinder engines and is easily capable of 15 knots per hour. She was built by the Robt. Drydock Co., South Brooklyn, New York and launched in December, 1913. Since June 4, 1914, when she made her first trial run, she has cruised 35,000 miles, which is said to be the yachting record for the great lakes during a period of this length. The value of the "Nokomis" is approximately $250,000.

NOW APPEARING AT

THE DAVIS THEATRE

Real Danger and Thrills in Spectacular Scene For "The Little American."

In staging the spectacular scenes for Mary Pickford's great seven-part patriotic picture, "The Little American," now scoring one of the biggest hits ever evinced at the Davis theatre, many actual dangers confronted Miss Pickford and the many other players in the production. The scene depicting views in the luxurious ballroom of the ocean liner when it was torpedoed, and a sensation even among the hardened members of the company.

The set was built in an immense water-tank measuring 50x100 feet and showed the wonderful ballroom of the "Veritania." At the command of Director De Mille, the ten camera men began to grind. Just as the festivities were at their height, a sudden explosion shook the entire set and immediately one end of the floor rapidly began to sink into the water. Miss Pickford, a sturdy young fellow who struggled toward the stairs with her in his arms just as the immense grand piano crashed into the corner where they had been standing.

Miss Pickford and various other members of the company had to discontinue activities for the day after this ordeal. "When the affair was all over the sentiments of everyone present were expressed by Douglas Fairbanks. "If that scene didn't pull a fellow right out of his seat," said Douglas, "it will be because he is nailed down."

The other feature is William Desmond in "Paws of the Bear," a five-part Triangle production. New Show tomorrow.

BREED THEATRE.

Last Day to See "Womanhood, The Glory of The Nation"—Edgar Lewis' Triumphal Screen Achievement, "The Bar Sinister," Feature For Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday the Breed will present "The Bar Sinister," the crowning achievement of the eminent director, Edgar Lewis, creator of such memorable photodramas as "The Barrier," "The Nigger," "The Light and Dark," and "The Bondman." "The Bar Sinister" is a stirring exposition of one of the most vital questions confronting humanity, a picture millions will wish to see, and yet its careful and intelligent treatment of a delicate subject there is not one time, scene or situation which could offend even the most acutely sensitive. The underlying theme of "The Bar Sinister" is the spiritual equality of mankind regardless of race, creed or color. The picture does not pretend to solve the problem. It is designed to one thing. There is no escape from its utter drama.

Today is the last opportunity to see "Womanhood, The Glory of The Nation," and if you haven't seen this production, don't fail to do so as it is a duty that every American owes to himself.

Paris, July 24.—The conference of members of the entente concerned with the Balkan work political situation in the Balkans will be begun here tomorrow.

The invitations to the conference were sent to the British government. Among them was one to the United States, accompanied by the explanation that it would be a small conference to consider specific objects and stating that as the United States had no troops in the Balkans it would therefore not care to participate, although its representatives would be welcomed. THREE BANKING HOUSES

IN CLEVELAND COMBINE

Is One of Largest Banking Combinations in United States.

Cleveland, O., July 24.—Shareholders of the Union National Bank and the Bank of Commerce, National Association, were officially advised today of the terms of the plan to merge the two national banks into a new national bank and for the affiliation of this institution with the Citizens' Savings and Trust company, constituting in effect one of the largest banking combinations between New York and Chicago.

The three banks have a combined deposit of about $107,000,000 and combined resources of $130,000,000 of which the Citizens' quota is about $74,000,000.

New Britain.—Walter Kossowig of New Britain a bookbinder employed by the New Britain Record, had his right hand chopped off at the wrist in a trimming machine at 11:55 o'clock this morning.

the fabulous tales told by the hunters of early days who went after the shaggy animals and came home empty handed but with wild experiences to relate. However, none of the old hunters ever told of seeing bears act like comedians and cut up like clowns.

After seeing R. T. Richard's Supreme Show of the World, which will be here tomorrow, it won't be an exaggeration to tell such stories. Madam Johanning has accomplished the seemingly impossible and has made the shaggy, wild brute submit to her will. Madam Johanning will appear in the ring with her bears and, as she gives the cues they will tumble about and caper like so many clowns. Their performance is one of the features of the Supreme Show of the World and if it was the only bid for favor under the big top, they would submit to her will. It was worth the price of admittance.

Other features on the finest circus programme ever given under a tent will include the Dumbbells, Barwells and Dembar troupe of high air performing acrobats; Paul Johannings' wonderful school of acting wild animals; Arthur Eldridge's performing Arabian stallions; Zentella's herd of acting Shetland ponies; Gaston Yank's elephants; the Loch-Florence Acrobatic Troupe; the Darling Acrobatic Altredo; the Felix Patti troupe of comedy acrobats and many others who will make up a circus performance the like of which has never been seen before.

On the morning of circus day there will be a magnificent parade through the streets in which will be exhibited many herds of fine horses, open dens of wild animals, herds of elephants, caravans of camels and many other strange and curious beasts captured in the wilds of Africa and Australia. There will be two performances, afternoon at 2 and evening at 8. Entrances will be opened one hour before the performances permit of the audience to the great menagerie tent, which will be shown one of the most complete collections of rare animals in existence.
